EDITORIAL NOTE

THIS, the concluding volume of the Scots Peerage, completes a work, the first volume of which was published in 1904. It contains, in the first place, a long list of addenda et corrigenda: the latter may, it is hoped, serve to put right some at all events of the actual errors which have occurred in the work; the former, and they are the larger class of the two, contain a good deal of information which has come to light since the publication of the several articles. The editor has to thank many kind correspondents and contributors for information supplied, and especially he may name his friends Mr. J. Maitland Thomson, LL.D., and Col. the Hon. R. E. Boyle, both of whom have been unremitting in their helpful endeavours to increase the usefulness and accuracy of the Peerage. Nobody is more aware of the many shortcomings of this work than the editor himself, but perhaps he may be allowed to claim that at all events it is an advance on what has gone before. No doubt, with increased facilities of investigation and the further publication of national records and the contents of private charter-chests, a future generation may be able to produce a fuller and still more accurate account of individual families, but it is hardly probable that a history of the Scottish Peerage on a scale similar to that of the present work will be attempted for many years to come.

The full and elaborate Index, with which the greater part of this volume is occupied, is the work of Mrs. Alexander Stuart, who has brought towards its completion an enthusiasm, energy, and ability which are beyond all praise. Not only does it contain a list of between forty and fifty thousand names, but each person is definitely described by the mention of his or her title, occupation, or relationship. In itself, indeed, the Index forms a valuable compendium of Scottish family history, which will be found useful even without reference to the pages of the Peerage. But it goes without saying that such an Index doubles the usefulness of a work like the present. It is not often that an editor meets with a compiler who is so fully in accord with him as to the standard to be aimed at in an index, and who is so capable of carrying it to a successful conclusion. It is difficult for the editor adequately to express the obligations he is under to Mrs. Stuart for her services in this matter.

The Index has been compiled on the following principles:—

1. A Peerage title is given, in capitals, with its holders in alphabetical order, and their respective wives.
2. If the name of the title is changed, e.g. from Lyon to Glamis, it is given a separate heading.
3. The surname of the holder of a Peerage title is given in capitals with the various Peerages, in alphabetical order, pertaining to it.
4. After Peers, owners of lands are given in alphabetical order; those of the same Christian name are put in chronological order.
5. Ordinary persons then come in alphabetical order and according to the paging in the volumes.
6. Women are given under their maiden names: if married, as 'wife of ——'; if unmarried as 'dau. of ——.'
7. As a rule, children who died in infancy are not inserted.

In taking leave of a task which has been a congenial if a somewhat strenuous one for the last twelve years, the editor has to express his appreciation of the amicable relations which have subsisted between him and his contributors (some now, alas, beyond the reach of acknowledgments). It is a pleasure to have worked with such colleagues.

JAMES BALFOUR PAUL.

p. 54, l. 34, for '1735' read '1735-36.'

p. 54, l. 2 from foot, delete 'at Paris, 17 March 1731, was buried in the Scots College there,' and insert 'in Dublin, 6, was buried in St. Patrick's Cathedral there 9, March 1730-31. Michel, on whose authority the statement in the text was given, is wrong, and the inscription he quotes must belong merely to a memorial tablet.'

p. 55, l. 28, delete the notice of John Hamilton, and insert 'John Hamilton was made a major-general in 1690-91, and died a prisoner in Dublin of wounds received at the battle of Aughrim. He married at Sixmile Bridge, co. Clare, in January 1690, Elizabeth M'Can, daughter of Glesney M'Can by Eleanor, daughter of William Folliard. They had an only child, Margaret, who became a chanoinesse of Poussay, in Lorraine, of which her cousin, Elizabeth de Gramont, was Abbess. She married, first, 16 September 1715, Pierre, Comte de Réance, etc.; and, secondly, 18 July 1718, François Philippe, Comte de Marmier, and had a son, Philippe François, created Marquis de Marmier 1740, from whom the present Marquis de Marmier descends (ex. inform. G. D. Burtchaell, Esq., Athlone Pursuivant).'

p. 62, l. 15, after 'son,' insert 'She had a pardon for violating the Acts of Parliament against marriage with Papists in December 1734 (Signet Bills, Public Record Office).'

p. 63, l. 17, for 'in November' read '13 October.'

p. 63, l. 2 from foot, for 'eighty' read 'seventy.'

p. 64, l. 23, after '1789,' insert 'the Patent, a most unusual one, as neither her father nor any of his issue could have succeeded to the title, was obtained with great difficulty through the influence of her cousin, the first Marquess, with whom she was on terms of intimacy. The King was most averse to granting it (Cf. Wraxall's Posthumous Memoirs, 163, and Lady Charlotte Bury's Diary, ii. 157).'

p. 68, l. 28, after 'Jane,' insert 'Gore.'

p. 75, l. 17, for 'third' read 'fourth.'

p. 75, last line, after 'Garden,' add 'He was killed at the battle of Pinkie, 1547, and his widow married, secondly, John Shaw of Broich (Exch. Rolls, xviii. 468; Acts and Decreets, xxii. 397).'

DALHOUSIE

p. 88, after l. 2 from foot, insert 'In light of more recent research the pedigree and statements given on pp. 89, 90 fall to be revised. The William Ramsay de Dalwolsy mentioned above was probably the father of:—

1. SIR WILLIAM, of whom below.

2. Alexander, who had from his brother, Sir William, a charter of the lands of Kernok, confirmed by David II. 11 November 1341 (note of Carnock charters communicated by Horatius Bonar, W.S.). About the same time he had from the same king a charter of the lands of Hawthornden, forfeited by Laurence Abernethy (Reg. Mag. Sig. i. new ed. App. 2, p. 563). He was, no doubt, the hero of the exploits recounted on p. 89 of text, and the victim of the Knight of Liddesdale's revenge. He was buried in Newbattle Church, see text p. 90, l. 29. He left a son Alexander, of whom below.

SIR WILLIAM RAMSAY was at Berwick in 1338 as in text; granted Carnock to his younger brother as above; and was on the assize who tried Malise, Earl of Strathearn for treason in 1344 (Roll of Parliament, printed in Scottish Historical Review for April 1912). He had from David II. a charter of the lands of Inverleith about 1346 (Robertson's Index, 36). He left issue:—

1. SIR PATRICK, of whom below.

2. Sir William, Sheriff of Lothian in 1357, when he is styled brother of Patrick (Reg. of Newbattle, 309). He had from David II. a grant of £20 sterling yearly, 9 September 1362 (Reg. Mag. Sig., vol. i. new ed. No. 109), and another to him (as of Dalwolsy) and Agnes his wife of the lands of Nether Liberton on 24 October 1369 (Ibid., No. 334). He is styled thus probably to distinguish him from his contemporary Sir William Ramsay of Culluthy; he is never styled dominus de Dalhousie. He and his wife sold Nether Liberton to Adam Forrester of Corstorphine, 10 April 1384; he styles himself in the charter "lord of Inverleith" (notes from Corstorphine Charters by Thomas Thomson, W.S.). On 6 June 1377 he had a safe-conduct from Edward III., being infirm of body and under the care of the prior of Bermondsey (Rot. Scot., i. 982). He was alive in 1388-89 (Exch. Rolls, iii. 188, 693). He had a son David, who had from Robert II. a charter of Inverleith, on his father's resignation, 2 July 1384 (Reg. Mag. Sig., vol. i. new ed. No. 791).

SIR PATRICK was lord of Dalwolsy before 1353 and in 1357 as in text. He styles Alexander his uncle at the latter date (see text). In 1367 (not 1357 as text) he resigned the barony of Dalwolsy in favour of his cousin Alexander (see below). Thereafter he is styled of Kerynton (Charter of 1369 quoted in text). His wife's name was Margaret (see text), and he had a son James, a substitute in the Dalwolsy charter of 1367 (see below).

ALEXANDER, son of Alexander Ramsay of Kernok, had from David II. a charter of the barony of Dalwolsy to himself and the heirs of his body, whom failing, to James, son of Sir Patrick Ramsay and the heirs of his body, whom failing, Sir Patrick's nearest heirs bearing his surname; on Sir Patrick's resignation, dated 15 June 1367 (Original charter belonging to the Earl of Dalhousie), Alexander's charter granting the Blindhalch to Newbattle Abbey, quoted in text, is undated, but must have been granted between 1369 and 1374. It does not appear whether the later lords of Dalhousie were descended from Alexander or from his cousin James.'

p. 92, l. 3, after 'issue,' insert '(besides a daughter Jonet, to whom her grandfather on 3 April 1456 granted a bond to pay her 500 merks Scots in the event of her brother Alexander dying without issue, in which case she would have succeeded to the estates but for the tailzie of the day before) (original in Dalhousie Charter-chest).'

p. 336, l. 10 of notes, after '1488,' delete remaining lines and insert 'Peter married Isobel Spreull (Acta Dom. Conc., xxii. 61) and was succeeded by John Cochrane, though there is nothing to show that John was his son. John Cochrane had sasine of Nether (or Easter) Cochrane in 1505 (Exchequer Rolls, xii. 717), and as "John Cochrane of that Ilk" entered into a contract with Isobel Spreull, "relict of Peter Cochrane, now spouse of Patrick Dunyng, anent her terce of Pitfour and others" (Acta Dom. Conc., xxii. 61). Easter Cochrane was sold in 1519 to Archbishop James Beaton by a licence granted under the Privy Seal in 1509 (Reg. Sec. Sig., i. 1943), and John Cochrane, was thereafter styled "of Pitfour," and held the lands under the superiority of the Earl of Crawford, by whom he had been infeft 2 May 1510. He was succeeded by his son Peter, who is named in a charter under the Great Seal to George Rollok of Duncrub in 1572, and who was followed by his son David. David died 1598, leaving nine children, and his will was proved in Edinburgh 23 January 1598-99. His successor, Francis Cochrane of Pitfour, is named in a cause that came before the Privy Council 1605. He was seised in the lands of Pitfour 4 September 1607, and is the last of that line. The Cochranes of Easter Cochrane and of Pitfour may have been descended from a Roger or Robert Cochrane who had a charter of Pitfour and others from King David II. about 1360 (Reg. Mag. Sig., vol. i., new ed., App. 2, 1356).'

p. 337, l. 13, delete from 'Robert Cochrane' down to 'of that Ilk' on l. 5 from foot of p. 338 and accompanying notes, and insert as follows :—

'ROBERT COCHRANE of that Ilk must have succeeded about 1488, as in that year he had sasine of the lands of Cochrane by command of Matthew, Earl of Lennox (Dundonald Inventory, No. 4). He was alive 2 January 1516-17, when he gave sasine of the lands to his son John and his wife (Ibid., No. 7).

JOHN COCHRANE of that Ilk was seised in the lands of Cochrane by Robert, his father, 10 January 1492 (Ibid., No. 5) and had a charter of the same lands 13 January 1498 (Ibid., No. 6). He married Elizabeth Semple, before 20 January 1486-87, when they had a charter of Corsefoord (Ibid., No. 26).

JOHN COCHRANE of that Ilk, served heir to his grandfather in the lands of Wester Cochrane 8 May 1520 (Ibid., No. 8), and married Marion Stewart, who was his widow 27 November 1540 (Acts and Decreets, xxxiv. 385), and who, in 1556, was the wife of John Gibson (Ibid., xii. 248). He had issue JOHN, who succeeded him, William, who is mentioned with Marion Stewart, his mother, in a renunciation dated 1 April 1565 (Inventory, No. 22), and David, who occurs in a mortgage on the lands of Cochrane with his brother William, 28 May 1536 (Laing Charters, 409).

JOHN COCHRANE of that Ilk succeeded his father 12 May 1539 (Inventory, No. 11). He is stated by Crawfurd to have married Mary, daughter of Lindsay of Dunrod, of which marriage no evidence has been found. He certainly married Elizabeth Semple of Fulwood, and with her had a charter of the lands of Craigton, dated 5 April 1529 (Ibid., No. 9). By her he had issue :—

1. WILLIAM, who succeeded him.
2. Janet, named in the will of Elizabeth Montgomery, her sister-in-law. She may have been the daughter who was married to —— Maxwell, and had a son, William, mentioned in the will of William Cochrane of that Ilk.'

"Adieu, sweet shade, complete was thy career,
Though lost too soon and premature thy bier:
For each fair character endowed thy life
Of daughter, sister, friend, relation, wife.
Yet lest unaltered fortune should have seemed
The source whence virtues so benignly beamed,
Long mining illness proved thy equal soul,
And patience like a martyr's, crowned the whole.
Pain could not sour, whom blessings had not spoil'd,
Nor death affright, whom not a vice had soil'd."

HOME

p. 445, l. 4 from foot. According to a genealogy penes Sir William Fraser's Trustees, dated 1664, this George was ancestor of the Homes of Spott.

p. 447, l. 16, delete from 'He is said' down to '1436' on l. 28, and then take in from 'Sir Alexander' on p. 448, l. 5 from foot, onwards.

Note.—Recent investigation shows that previous writers on this pedigree, including Sir William Fraser in his Report (followed by the writer of this article), to the Historical MSS. Comm. (Twelfth Report, App. pt. viii. 78-79), have been wrong in making the first Lord Home a separate personage from Sir Alexander. The mistake arose from the supposed necessity of finding a husband for Marion, heiress of Landells, and not perceiving that she was really identical with Marion Lauder. In view of this the following rearrangement and alteration of the text falls to be made:

p. 447, l. 5 from foot, delete from 'They had issue' to end of page.

p. 448, l. 18, after 'in,' insert 'or before.'

p. 448, l. 22, delete from 'I. SIR ALEXANDER' down to 'father' on next line. Note.—The information contained from the words 'a charter' on line 23, to 'Crown' on l. 5 from foot of same page, apply to Alexander, eldest son of Lord Home. (See infra.)

p. 449, after l. 4 from foot, delete down to 'Hepburn' on p. 450, l. 2, and insert

'Lord Home married, first, before 1424, Marion, daughter of John Lauder and his wife, Katherine, daughter of William de Landells and his wife Jonet. In 1425 she got sasine of the lands of Swynset, as heir of her mother, Katherine, who must have succeeded to them through her father, who, along with his wife, had a royal charter of these and other lands 4 January 1390-91 (Reg. Mag. Sig., vol. i. new ed. No. 813). Sir Alexander and Marion were related in the fourth degree of consanguinity, etc., as on p. 447. They had issue:—

1. Alexander, who had a charter, etc., as on l. 23, p. 448, down to 'Crown' on l. 5, from foot of same page. He died v.p. about 1456. He married, contract 2 February 1448 (Scotts of Buccleuch, ii. 39), Annes or Agnes, daughter of Sir Adam Hepburn of Hailes: they had a papal dispensation for the marriage, 2 January 1450-51, on the ground that they were within the third and third degrees of affinity (Reg. Vat. ccccxvi. 122). They had issue, as on p. 450, ll. 4-6.
2. George, who seems to have been originally destined for the Church: he had papal provision of canonries of Glasgow and Dunkeld 14 June 1447, and was in his fifteenth year in 1450-51 (Reg. Vat., ccccxvi. 124, 126). He had a confirmation charter, etc., as in text on p. 450.
3. John, Prior of Coldingham, as in text on p. 450.
4. Sir Patrick, of Fastcastle, as in text on p. 450.

5, 6, and 7. Nicholas, Katherine, and Elyne, as in text on p. 448.'

p. 451, l. 4, after 'married,' insert 'about January 1496-97 (cf. vol. vi. 357).'

p. 454, l. 5, from foot. According to the genealogy of 1664, there were eight daughters in all.

p. 456, l. 27, after 'forth.),' insert 'They had a dispensation for their marriage, which had been carried out per verba de futuro, they being within the third and fourth degrees of affinity, 24 and 25 February 1513-14 (Laing Charters, No. 301).'

p. 460, l. 18, after '1589' add 'He had a natural son George, who in 1574 was in Sweden (Edin. Burgh Reg. of Deeds, 7 Aug, 1574).'

p. 462, l. 8 from foot, for 'before February 1582-83' read 'contract 4, 15, 24, and 25 February 1580-81 (Reg. of Deeds, xix. 180).'

p. 463, after l. 10, insert
